Though we have not heard certainly of the laying of the track of the Milwaukee & Missistippi R. R. into Prairie du Chien, and the severe storms of the past week may have prevented the consummation of the work, the probabilities are strong that it is done. A gentleman who left the end of the track on Tuesday, informed us that Mr. Broderad, the indefatigable President, was out with his men all through the driving storm of that day, pushing the work shead. A few days of dry weather, to settle the track, and enable the contractors to finish the ballasting, will put the road in complete running order for service. We are impatient to announce the through running arrangements. The upper Mississippi, above La Crosse, however, does not seem to be open yet.

APPOINTMENT. The telegraph reports the appointment of D. A. J. UPMAM, of this city, as U. S. District Attorney for this state. It seems that the report of his having voted for Judge WHITOH did not reach Washington in time.

The Election of Chief Justice. We get thus far but scattering returns from the state in regard to the election of Chief Justice, but they are sufficient to make the reelection of Judge Whiton certain, by somewhere about 10,000 majority. Thus Wisconsin responds to the Dred Scott decision !

News is restricted to the unopposed, and, therefore, successful candidates on the "regular" ticket. For the four defeated candidates (who were equally entitled, under party rule, to the suppor and sympathy of the News) the "official organ has not one word of condolence, or regret. I Intimates, indeed, that these unfortunates victims of misplaced confidence in the invincibility of regular nominations, were not its "friends"!-But this after-election discovery is rather sus picious. So sudden an abandonment of Messrs. WHITZHEAD, GRAHAM, O'BRIEN and DORAN whom, but a week ago, the Aews unbesitatingly endorsed and warmly commended to the suffrages of the democracy, is ungrateful, to say the least Has it anything to do with the aspirations of the News to be continued in office as the official city paper? and does it turn its back on its its old

How to Get round the Constitution The State Engineer of Louisiana has made a special report to the Legislature of that State, In which he says that the leveeing the Mississ ippi and its branches above Louisians is by thu outling off outlets, natural reservoirs, &c., pre cipitating at once on Louisiana immense amounts of water which formerly were detained for weeks For this surplus, vents must be found. The bayons must be deepened and straitened. He recommend thats Congress be petitioned to de clare the Mississippi an "Inland sea," of which the improvements belong to the General Govern

Very likely Congress will legislate the Mississ ippi into an "inland sea," in order to get round those constitutional scruples which the Sham Democracy plead whenever appropriations are asked for River and Harbor improvements.-Having done this to oblige the South, perhaps they will then consider the case of our Great Lakes, which do not need any "declaration," on the part of Congress to make them "inland seas."

An Appeal from Tancy in 1857 to Ta-ncy in 1843. It is said that Chief Justice Taney takes it in high dudgeon that the newspapers venture to publish and to criticise his late outrageous decision in the Dred Scott case. We do not wonder, for the newspapers, besides expressing the sentiments of abhorrence with which a free and enlightened people receive a barbarous and inhunan dietum, have convicted the Judge of inconmistency with his own previously expressed opinions in several casecs. The last discovered instance is the case of Williams vs. Ash, in the 1st of decides now that Dred Scott, being a negro, is

This case is brought here by wiit of error, from the Circuit Court, and came before that Court upon a petition for freedom. It appeared upon the trial that the petitioner was the property of Mary Ann Greenfield, of Prince George's County in the State of Maryland, who died in 1834, having first day. County in the State of Maryland, who died in 1824, having first duly made her last will and 1824, having first duly made her last will and tostament, whereby, among other things, she bequeathed the positioner, with sundry other Slaves, to her nephew, G. T. Greenfield, with a provise in the following words:—"Provided, he shall not carry them out of the State of Maryland, or sell them to any one, in either of which land, or sell them to any one, in either of which ovents, I will and devise the said negroes to be free for life." Upon the death of the testatix, G.T. Greenfield took possession of the petitioner, (James Ash) until December, 1889, when he sold the petitioner to the defendant, (Williams) and the petition for freedom was filed shortly after pe salo.

Upon this evidence, the Circuit Court instruct ed the Jury, that by the fact of such sale of the petitioner the estate or the property of the petitioner so bequeathed to Groenfield, ceased and determined, and he therefore became entitled to determined, and he therefore became entities at his freedom. We think the bequest in the will was a conditional limitation of freedom to the petitioner, and that it took effect the moment he was sold... The judgment of the Circuit Court is therefore affirmed.

By this it is seen that in 1843, according to to receive their freedom there. We are not aware that the Constitution has been changed by urgo on the government to cause the same to be built forthwith, and also that the Toronto and gince that time, and are willing to appeal from Judge Tanex, in 1857, aged and beside himself in his blind worship of the idols of Slavery, to Judge TAKEY in 1843, in the maturity of life, with facilities unimpaired by age, and judgment mwarped by a desire to serve political partizans. How they take the Consus in Kansas. The following extract from a late letter from Kansas, shows how the officials appointed by the Border-ruffian Legislature do up the census bus-

The bogus census takers are at work. They have received instructions from the bogus county courts which differ materially from even the bogus directions, and they were bad enough to all conscience. The truth is that every bogus official is a law unto himself, and legislation to define their duties is a work of supererogation.—

There is not a bogus constable but occasionally assumes the functions of a Justice. There is not a Sheriff but labors under the delusion that ho is Judge, and the bogus county courts have as ex-Judge, and the bogus county courts have as exalted an opinion as to their omniscient and legiti mate mission on earth as if they were descend-ants of the red fruit of Lake Pulkouri.

ants of the reg fruit of Lake Fulkour.

This same consus will be a very great humbug; but bogus humbugs are sometimes serious. Only a small part of the Free-State men are placed on the list. They take no one—that is, no Free-State man—who was not an actual settler on the labbling. They impose the regard, arrivals—in State man—who was not an actual settler on the 16th inst. They ignore the recent arrivals—in fact, all the arrivals of this Spring, and do not take one half of the others. The Free-State men allow them to do as they please, only some of them wish them at Jericho, and some few do not served to save an not scruple to say so.

The explosion dushed several of the men from the beller room into the press room, blew the bailer head and a portion of the chimney through the intervening wall, forced out the greater portion of the cast wall of the wing and let the floor of the two upper stories down, with all the appe and materials in them, making a scene of ruin and contusion unparalleled in our expenience. The noise of the explosion was a a scene of ruin mad contacton unparalleled in our experience. The noise of the explosion was a deep, dull roar, and shook the buildings for several squares around. When we reached the scene of the disaster, we found the press room,

The wall that had not been blown down was forced a foot or two out of the perpendicular, the floors all crushed into a mass at the bottom, with a portion of the boiler underneath, and worst of all the body of a man crushed and blackened under the boiler. After a great deal of effort the heavy iron mass was removed, and a boy mand George Holman taken out borribly crushed and quite dead. Mr. Randall, the foreman of the news room, was badly hurt, as was a boy named Fred Mudbarger; also Frank Schuyler, J. Cax, and a son of Mr. Doughty, one of the proprietors.

A fire was discovered in two or three places A five was discovered in two or three places, but extinguished without damange, the citizens working faithfully to prevent injury. We have not space to give fall details of the disaster now. The boiler was new, made by Dumont & Co., and was put up under the personal superintendence of Mr. Vinton, one of the best machinists in the West. It was made with great care, as the promisters had spread up expense in particular.
